

Cryp-Sure EI for Trades and Wallets

Who Does it Protect?

Cryp-Sure Embedded Insurance (EI) is designed to protect cryptocurrency traders and consumers while executing trades on participating exchanges. Whether a casual investor or a high-frequency trader, Cryp-Sure safeguards your funds and assets from the risks that matter most — including trade delays, execution errors, and malicious activity.

At its core, Cryp-Sure EI provides immediate financial protection for loss, theft, or misdirected transactions, giving users confidence to trade securely. The policy is built as a seamless, embedded solution, ensuring coverage is automatic and easy to access while trading.

With Cryp-Sure EI, protection is more than a policy — it's a trust layer for users, simplifying the trading experience while ensuring that assets and transactions are safeguarded every step of the way.

Key Coverages

Cryp-Sure EI provides the essential protections every trader needs in a fast-moving crypto environment:

- Trade Execution Protection:
Coverage if trades are delayed, fail, or are executed incorrectly.
- Theft and Hacking Protection:
Safeguards against funds being stolen or sent to the wrong address during trading.
- Loss of Funds: Protects user assets in the event of exchange errors or operational failures.
- Operational & Platform Failures:
Coverage for losses arising from platform failures or system errors.

Real Time Protection

Cryp-Sure EI harnesses the power of blockchain and AI to provide real-time protection and automated claims settlement. Integration with your exchange is simple, fast, and seamless — no heavy IT lift required. Users receive instant confirmation of coverage, and claims are processed automatically, removing friction and building trust at every trade.

Embedded directly into your platform, Cryp-Sure EI is more than insurance — it becomes a growth engine, attracting and retaining clients while enhancing the user experience. It demonstrates your commitment to secure, responsible trading, turning protection into a tangible competitive advantage.

More Than Just Insurance

At Cryp-Sure, EI is more than a policy — it's a partner in every trade. By embedding protection directly into the trading experience, we allow users to trade with confidence, knowing their assets are safeguarded against loss, theft, or delays.

Cryp-Sure EI provides proactive protection and support across the trading lifecycle, with access to specialist advice and operational guidance when needed. It doesn't just cover incidents — it enhances trust, reduces friction, and ensures users can trade securely and confidently in the fast-moving crypto environment.
